faith a distinction to be made between natural and religions faith a full knowledge of religions faith implies some antecedent knowledge of natural faith natural faith or belief arises naturally and necessarily on its appropriate occasions is known chiefly by a reference to our own consciousness illustrations of its nature exists in different degrees does not concentrate attention upon itself its power all men have faith but it cannot be said with truth that all men have religious faith all men have faith in something but it is not true that all men have faith in god it is proper therefore to make a distinction and to discriminate between religious faith and natural faith 2 in order however to understand religious faith it is desirable as it seems to me to understand something of the nature or character of natural faith our attention therefore is properly directed in the first place to the inquiry what is natural faith and in the prosecution of this inquiry an obvious remark here is that faith or belief which is only another name for the same thing arises within us naturally and necessarily on its appropriate occasions in other words it does not depend for its origin on our volition but it comes of itself it does not depend for instance upon a man's volition or his mere arbitrary choice whether he shall believe in his own existence or not whether he shall believe in his personal identity or not whether he shall believe in the existence of an outward material world or not in these cases and in others like them it is conceded that he cannot help believing the state of mind therefore which we denominate faith or belief using the terms in the natural and not in faith is one of the most critical aspects of the christian life because it is the means by which we receive all that god has secured for us yet the nature of faith is one of the most misunderstood concepts of christianity some conceptualize faith as some mental state that one must reach before they are able to tap into god s resources others view faith as some sort of incorporeal substance that is out there for which we must reach all of these concepts of faith are deficient if not heretical and yet all of them are found in the church others view faith as a mere fantasy or hope with no basis in reality and thus religious claims are excluded from the arena of knowledge for a number of years my heart has been trilled over the doctrine of faith as it is received and taught among evangelical christians everywhere great emphasis is laid upon faith in orthodox circles and that is good but still i am troubled specifically my fear is that the modern conception of faith is not the biblical one that when the teachers of our day use the word they do no mean what bible meant when they used it i also share the same concerns with a w tozer when he said the cause of my uneasiness are these 1 the lack of spiritual fruits in the lives of so many who claim to have faith 2 the rarity of a radical change in the conduct and general outlook of persons professing their new faith in christ as their personal savior 3 the failure of our teachers to define or even describe the thing to which the word faith is supposed to refer 4 the heartbreaking failure of multitudes of seekers is they are even so earnest to make anything out of the doctrine or to receive any satisfying experience through it 5 the real danger that a doctrine that is parroted so widely and received so uncritically by so many is false as understood by them 6 i have seen faith put forward as an escape from reality a refuge from the necessity of hard thinking a hiding place for weak character natural optimism emotional thrills and nervous tics therefore in the pages of this book i will endeavor to outline for your benefit the dynamics of faith what is faith how does faith works how to grow in faith the power of faith the excellency of faith the demand of faith the perseverance of faith the challenges of faith the object of faith the effect of faith the response of faith the discipline of faith the necessity of faith and many more are discussed the securing of the spiritual comforts of believers in this life is a matter of the highest importance unto the glory of god and their own advantage by the gospel writes the great puritan john owen for god is abundantly willing that all the heirs of promise should receive strong consolation and he has provided ways and means for the communication of it to them and their participation of it is their principal interest in this world and is so esteemed by them but their effectual refreshing enjoyment of these comforts is variously opposed by the power of the remainders of sin in conjunction with other temptations hence notwithstanding their right and title unto them by the gospel they are oftentimes actually destitute of a gracious sense of them and consequently of that relief which they are suited to afford in all their duties trials and afflictions now the root whereon all real comforts do grow whence they spring and arise is true and saving faith the faith of god s elect wherefore they do ordinarily answer unto and hold proportion with the evidences which any have of that faith in themselves at least they cannot be maintained without such evidences wherefore that we may be a little useful unto the establishment or recovery of that consolation which god is so abundantly willing that all the heirs of promise should enjoy i shall inquire what are the principal acts and operations of faith whereby it will evidence its truth and sincerity in the midst of all temptations and storms that may befall believers in this world and i shall insist on such alone as will bear the severest scrutiny by scripture and experience this puritan classic includes the following chapters introduction i how does saving faith approve of this way on what accounts and unto what ends ii the second evidence of the faith of god s elect iii the third evidence of the faith of god s elect iv the fourth evidence of the faith of god s elect
